51. Explain what the Word Count dialog box is and what it contains.

ANSWER: The Word Count dialog box lists the number of pages, words, characters, paragraphs, and lines included in the selected text. The status bar also displays the number of words included in the selected text and the total number of words in the entire document. If you want to view the page, character, paragraph, and line count for the entire document, make sure nothing is selected in your document, and then click Word Count in the Proofing group.

52. Discuss the use of dictionary apps and explain what Apps for Office are.

ANSWER: Instead of a built-in dictionary, Word includes the ability to install a free dictionary app from the Office Store that you can use to look up the definitions of words. A dictionary app is just one of many Apps for Office that are available in Word. Apps for Office are small programs embedded in Word that allow you to access information on the Web without having to leave Word. For example, you can look up something on Wikipedia, insert an online map in one of your documents, or access dictionaries and other reference sources, all from within Word using an app. To install the free dictionary app from the Office Store for the first time, click the Define button in the Proofing group on the REVIEW tab, decide which dictionary you want, and then click the Download button associated with the dictionary you want in order to install that dictionary. After the dictionary is installed, it will open automatically in the Dictionary pane whenever you click Define. If you want to download other dictionaries or other apps, click the Apps for Office button in the Apps group on the INSERT tab, click More apps, find the app you want, and then click Add or Buy. Some apps are free, and some require purchase. Word allows you to choose one dictionary app for free. To use an app, click the Apps for Office button, click My Apps to see your list of apps, and then double-click the app you want to use.

53. Discuss sharing documents from within Word, including e-mailing and faxing.

ANSWER: Word includes several options for distributing and sharing documents over the Internet directly from within Word, including saving a document to OneDrive for others to view and edit, e-mailing a document, presenting a document online so others can view it in a Web browser, and posting a document to a blog. To share a document, open the file in Word, click the FILE tab, click Share, and then click one of the Share options. When you e-mail a document from within Word, the document is sent as an attachment to an e-mail message using your default e-mail program. You can choose to attach the document as a Word file, a .pdf file, or an .xps file, or to send it as an Internet fax. When you click an option, a message window opens that includes the filename of the current file as the message subject and the file as an attachment. Type the e-mail address(es) of the recipient(s) in the To and Cc text boxes, any message you want in the message window, and then click Send on the message window toolbar to send the message. The default e-mail program sends a copy of the document to each recipient. Note that faxing a document directly from Word requires registration with a third-party Internet fax service. Fax services generally charge a monthly or per page fee for sending and receiving faxes.

56. Keith wants to use Word to publish an article to the Internet, so that other people can read and respond to it. What steps does he need to take to do this?

ANSWER: Keith should publish his article as an online blog. There are two ways he could do this:
 1. He can write the article as a new blog post. He would click New on the FILE tab then double-click Blog post to open a predesigned blog post document. He can write his article in this template, format the article, and add images.
 2. He could publish an existing document as a blog by opening the document, clicking the FILE tab, clicking Share, and then clicking Post to Blog.

Either way, he needs to first obtain a blog account with a blog service provider if he does not already have one, and then register his blog account with Word.

57. Keith decides that he wants to copy some information from another Word document into a paragraph of his article. He also wants to make sure that the text he copies is formatted the same way as the rest of the paragraph, not the way it was formatted in the original document. How can he do this?

ANSWER: Keith should take the following steps:

1. Open both documents.
2. Select the text he wants to copy.
3. Use the Copy button or [Ctrl][C] to copy the selected text to the Clipboard.
4. Switch to the other document by clicking the button for that document on the task bar. Alternatively, he could use the Arrange All button or the View Side by Side button to display both documents at the same time.
5. Place the insertion point in the location where he wants to paste the text.
6. Use the Paste button or [Ctrl][V] to paste the text at the location of the insertion point. He could also click the item on the Office Clipboard to paste the text.
7. Click the Paste Options button, then select the Keep Text Only option to ensure that the formatting of the text is changed to match the rest of the paragraph.
